(Special from United Press.) New York, July 12.-The annual golf championship tournament held by the Eastern professional golfers association will be conducted over the Swiftsbury links at Garden City, Long Island, on July 26 and 27. Contestants must qualify in an 18 hole stroke round and then fight it out in flights of eight according to the merits of their scores. Only on rare occasions have professionals been pitted against each other in hole play and the innovation will be of considerable interest to golfers. Al C. Smith is the present National champion. He wil probably not compete this year.

(Special from United Press.)

New York, July 12.—There may be an aftermath of the Jeffries-Johnson fight in New York that will have a far-reaching effect on the promotion of future contests by New Yorkers. A complaint has been lodged with the authorities that "Big Tim" Sullivan in acting as temporary stake-holder was guilty of a misdemeanor, the law making it an offense "to ar-range for a prize fight" and further providing that it is a crime to leave the state planning to carry out an act that is a violation of the state laws. Assistant District Attorney Nott, who is in charge of the district attorney's office in the absence of District Attorney Whitman, said today: "I am investigating the charge against Sullivan and if the facts warrant I will bring the matter to the attention of the grand jury." Friends of Sullivan laugh at the matter. They say that the big fight was a glove contest not a prize fight; that the entire matter was threshed out when the matter was arranged in Hoboken and that competent legal authority "advised Sullivan that he would violate no state law in acting as stakeholder." It is also pointed out that the fight was perfectly legal under the laws of Nevada; therefore

BIG FINES CAUSE PHILIES TO BRACE UP

Philadelphia, Pa., July 12 .- Quaker City baseball rooters are wondering whether the imposition of big fines loesn't really improve the playing of Early in the season, Horace Fogel, the new president of the team, didn't like the way the Phillies were playing, so he plastered enormous fines and long suspensions upon a number of them. Yesterday, the Phillies beat Pittsburg by the biggest score made in the National League this year 18 to 0. The world's champions used five pitchers ineffectively, while McQuillen held the Pirates so safely that not a man reached third base. Bransfield was the particular star of the occasion, setting five hits in six times up make getting five hits in six times up, making three runs and batting in eight. Thirteen Phillies went to bat in the ninth inning, scoring nine runs.

CLASSY ENTRIES IN

Litchfield, July 12 .- Although the list of entries for the annual tennis tournament at Litchfield is not so large as in past years, the players this year are performing better than ever before. Due to the fact that the Bridgeman cup became the permanent prop-erty of Dr. P. W. Hawk of Philadelphia, last year, there will be no challenge round in this week's matches, new cup has been presented by Laine C. White of this place, and Dr. Hawks will be one of this year's contestants. Among the entries are the following: C. A. Lindsley, F. C. Isman, A. Holt, and L. Woodbury of New York, Dr. P. B. Hawk, Philadelphia; E. H. Coley, F. M. Watrous, L. M. Wiggin and R. C. Deming, New Haven; R. A. Holden and P. A. Larremore, Yale; Prof. Louis Perry, Williams; E. Q. Jackson, Middletown, E. Rowland, J. M. Holcomb, Jr., Hartford; B. Lewis, Philadelphia; M. Cunningham, Litchfield; A. Richards, Play in the singles began today and the doubles will start Wednesday
